City Officials

Quit Their Jobs

God reigns, and the government at Carmel-by-the-Sea still lives.

At an adjourned meeting of the city Board of Trustees, held a week ago last night, three of our city officials tendered their resignations. First there came City Engineer Howard E. Cozzens to throw up his job, with no reason given for the action. Then, because of press of private affairs, City Attorney H. G. Jorgensen quit. This was followed by the reading of the following:

Carmel-by-the-Sea, Sept. 29
To the Honorable Board of Trustees of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, Gentlemen:

Having found that my duties as Trustee require so much of my time as to interfere with my private business, I hereby tender my resignation as a member of the Board of Trustees of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea.

Respectfully, Eva K. de Sabla

The three resignations were accepted, and in the case of Mrs. de Sabla a vote of thanks was given for her efficient and courteous filling of the chairmanship of the board.

There was another meeting of the board on Friday night, at which Trust William T. Kibbler was elected chairman. Fred Treat of Monterey was appointed City Attorney, and the position of City Engineer was tendered to Henry Fisher of San Jose, who has since accepted.

ALWAYS CORRECT MEN'S WEAR

It Was Quite an Unusual Show

A large audience assembled at Arts and Crafts Hall on Monday evening, where, under the direction of Ann Dare, Alfred Kreymborg gave, in a delightfully informal manner, one of his unique programs, made up of selections from his own poems, plays and music.

Minus any of the elaborate accessories or illustrative dancing with which this artist has given his entertainment in other cities, the curtains parted to disclose the little marionette theatre, so reminiscent of fete-day celebrations in France and Italy, and the thrilling drama, "Lima Beans," was enacted by two puppets, who, to the delicate accompaniment of the mandolite, loved, danced, bargained with the green-grocer, quarrelled and forgave with all the lightness of heart of the true marionette.

Mr. Kreymborg followed the play with a group of poems, some serious, some humorous, some merely fanciful, and all subtle. They were read with a skillfully interpretive accompaniment.

The program ended with "Jack's House," a marionette play.

The Wonders of America

By T. T. MAXEY

YOSEMITE VALLEY, CALIFORNIA.

THIS beautiful valley—now a part of Yosemite National park, by the way—is one of nature's most wonderful works of art. The valley is only eight miles long and less than two miles wide. The park embraces a domain about 36 by 48 miles. Here the supreme artist has chiseled and etched and painted an outdoor gallery of masterpieces unlike any other in the world.
The Indians termed the place the Heart of the Sky Mountains and called it "The Vale of the Ahwanee," and themselves Ahwaneeches, or "Children of Light."

The excellent features of the Yo-semite are its waterfalls and sheer, bold cliffs. Snow-waters from high mountains have found a wonderful variety and beauty of courses down the mountain walls to the Merced river in the valley below. These peculiar peaks strikingly resemble huge domes and range in height all the way from 1,200 to 6,000 feet. The falls which descend their rugged sides range in height from 350 feet—Vernal falls, which is only 35 feet wide at the top—to beautiful Yosemite falls, which, in three leaps, plunges half a mile and is said to be the highest waterfall in the world with anything like the same volume of water.

Standing on the summit of Sentinel Dome, the magnificence of the vista of the valley that bursts upon the eye compels silence. Perhaps no valley in the world combines so much that is so sublimely beautiful. It is "a bite of Paradise," sure enough.

Cold was the earth and all the stars,
But Mary Mother smiled
Where in the manger of an inn
Lay warm the Holy Child.

The ox was hest upon that night
Unto the King of all;
He gave for incense meadowy breath,
For shelter his rude stall.

Not all the cold of earth and man
Can pierce the heaven mind,
Where warm against her leaping heart
A Mother clasps Her Child.

O miracle of utmost love, How God grew greater when He stooped to be a helpless babe Beside the hearts of men.

Long ages since—and still in joy,
In loneliness and tears,
We kneel unto a Little Boy
Who smiles down through the years.

FRENCH PRAISE FOR OUR RED CROSS WORK

Lauding the work accomplished by American philanthropy for war-stricken France, Andre Tardieu, former high commissioner from that nation to the United States, in a recent article widely commented on throughout the French press, says:

"The American Red Cross has accomplished a work which calls for the heartfelt gratitude of every true Frenchman. In 1918 this great relief organization spent in behalf of France nearly 87,000,000 francs, and in 1919 its expenditures on charitable projects in our country attained the tremendous total of 171,000,000. It has recently turned over to the French relief organizations huge stocks of supplies whose value must be counted in the hundreds of thousands of francs.

"Fifteen million American boys and girls, banded together in the Junior Red Cross of America, are back of a movement to establish the closest ties between themselves and France's younger generation through the charitable works they have financed, and are now carrying out among our little war sufferers.

"The bonds of friendship between France and America is cemented with mutual admiration, respect and gratitude."

American Red Cross Will Have Health Centers in All Parts of United States.

The American Red Cross has launched upon a nation wide campaign of fighting disease and physical defect among the American people. A new and unique health institution has come into being as the result of several months' study by the Red Cross Health Service Department at National Headquarters.

Officials in charge of the department predict that before long this new health activity will be in actual operation all over the country, and that the sign—"American Red Cross Health Center"—will become as familiar to the people everywhere as are now the signs of the telegraph companies.

Busy Long Before War.

The interest of the American Red Cross in the fight against disease is not, however, of recent origin. Long before the war the organization began this health service through its medical units in disaster relief work and its department of Town and County Nursing. During the war and following the armistice thousands of American Red Cross officials have been fighting disease in the war-stricken countries. At the same time tens of thousands of local Red Cross officials have been engaged at home fighting disease, notably during the influenza epidemics.

The American Red Cross has determined that all this valuable experience in health service abroad and at home shall not go to waste. So long as there are a half a million people dying yearly in this country from preventable causes, and so long as more than one-third of the American children and young people are victims of physical defects, the Red Cross recognizes the urgent need for continued Red Cross health service at home.

How Organization Works.

The Red Cross Health Center is governed by business principles, applies business methods, and, in its more simple form, can be established and conducted by lay people.

It proceeds upon the demonstrated fact that health is a commodity that can be bought and sold like brooms and soap. Therefore, it establishes itself in a storeroom in the principal business section of the community. It displays its goods in the form of attractive health exhibits in its show windows. It advertises constantly and extensively. And it uses every business and social device to attract customers.

The Red Cross Health Center is of service to the sick in that it gives out reliable and complete information about existing clinics, hospitals, sanatoria and other institutions for the sick and the defective; about available nurses, both trained and practical; about when to consult a physician and why to shun the quack and his nostrums.

Teaching Disease Prevention.

The Red Cross Health Center is, however, of even greater service to the well. It teaches people how to prevent sickness and disease. This is done in many interesting and attractive ways—first of all, by the distribution of popular health literature and through health lectures illustrated with lantern slides or with health motion picture films. Then special exhibits are given, one after the other, on various health subjects. Practical demonstrations are made; also health playlets by children to interest and instruct themselves and their elders. Classes are organized in personal hygiene, home care of the sick, first aid and in food selection and preparation. Health clubs, both for younger and older people, are formed; also Little Mothers' Leagues. Nutrition and growth clinics are conducted for children.

Already more than a hundred of these Red Cross Health Centers are in actual operation throughout the country. Many of them also conduct medical clinics, but the one chief, outstanding feature of the American Red Cross Health Center is its health education service which teaches well people how to keep well.

OLD OCTOBER.

By JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY.

[Copyright 1887, 1898, by James Whitcomb
Riley.]

O LD October's purt' nigh gone,
And the frosts is comin' on Little heavier every day—
Like our hearts is thataway!
Leaves is changin' overhead
Back from green to gray and red,
Brown and yellor, with their stems Loosenin' on the oaks and e'ms,
And the balance of the trees
Gittin' balder every breeze—
Like the heads we're scratchin' on!
Old October's purt' nigh gone.

I love Old October so
I can't bear to see her go;
Seems to me like losin' some Old home relative er chum;
'Pears like sorto' settin' by Some old friend 'at, sigh by sigh,
Was a-passin' out o' sight
Into everlastin' night!
Hickernuts a feller hears Rattlin' down is more like tears
Drappin' on the leaves below—
I love Old October so!

Can't tell what it is about
Old October knocks me out!
I sleep well enough at night
And the blamest appetite
Ever mortal man possessed,
Last thing et, it tastes the best—Warnuts, butternuts, pawpaws,
'Ties and limbers up my jaws Fer real service, such as new Pork, spareribs and sausage too.
Yit, fer all, they's somepin' 'bout
Old October knocks me out!

City Officials Quit Their Jobs

Continued from First Page

Tuesday night of this week, George M. Dorwart was seated as a Trustee, to succeed Mrs. de Sabla. The appointment of Dorwart caused another shift in the commissionerships, M. J. Murphy taking streets, and the new trustee health and safety.

Only routine business was transacted.
Final passage of three new ordinances was put over until next Tuesday night on the recommendation of Mayor Kibbler.
